

Prophecy Given to Wayne Hendrickson on 7/9/2023

Comfort ye, comfort ye my people. Though you have gone astray at times, I have not left you nor forsaken you but am drawing you back into alignment with Me. I desire you to draw near unto me. For it is a time of love.

I counsel you to drink of Me and feed on Me for I am food indeed and drink indeed. Make Me your passion. Draw near to My comfort. Let me wrap My arms around you and draw you close. Hide yourself away in Me. For I am all that you have need of.

I never change. I have never left you. Though everything seems dark, I am bringing My Light into you and giving My joy and peace into you that you and I might have fellowship with each other.

For it is a time for you to receive My love. I will carry you through every situation for I am your God. Be enraptured with My love. Walk with me for I care for you. Seek My face, draw near to Me and learn of Me for I never fail.
